Multigenerational Family Dynamics 2020: Understanding BOTH Continuity and Changing Realities
Families in North America today both resemble and look different from families of the past. The similarities and differences have implications for the care of vulnerable individuals among us. As clinicians, it is helpful to understand these dynamics and work with them to provide the highest quality assistance to both aging and disabled persons and their families. This workshop will take a look at some common family dynamics and explore how they have changed in recent decades. It will also explore what issues have tended to stay consistent in family dynamics. It will provide a framework for understanding family dynamics and using them to better assist those who depend on "outsiders" to provide care and support.

Speaker

Paula Taliaferro MGS, LSW Paula works part time at the Central Ohio Area Agency on Aging as an Outreach & Education Specialist. As such, she has presented over 650 workshops in the last decade. Paula holds a Master's Degree in Gerontology from Scripps Gerontology Center at Miami University and a License in Social Work in the State of Ohio. She is a PAC Approved Trainer under Teepa Snow's Positive Approach Certification. She is developer of the "Aging In Ohio" course which is required of many professionals who work with older adults. In addition, she is one two developers of the "Fundamentals of Guardianship" course sponsored by the Ohio Supreme Court's Judicial College.

Objectives

At the conclusion of this workshop, participants will be able to:

- Describe nature of multigenerational families in North America both current and in past
- Identify cultural dynamics that can differentiate families from each other and from dominant culture
- List demographic and technology changes that have impacted families in recent decades
- Describe 5 characteristics of family dynamics that have remained relatively consistent over time and that impact the provision of care to vulnerable individuals in family systems
- Describe 5 characteristics of family dynamics that have seen a shift in recent decades and that impact the provision of care to vulnerable individuals in family systems.
