Personality Disorders in Older Adults ~ Assessing the Situation

Purpose

Personality disorders, especially in older adults, are among the most difficult psychiatric disorders to assess. The impact of changes as a person ages in conjunction with personality disorders can be multifaceted.

This workshop will address the assessment challenges and help to differentiate between the characteristics of personality disorders and eccentricities in this population, as well as explore stereotypes.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION:

Room temperatures can be difficult to control; dressing in layers adaptable to warm and cool temperatures is recommended.

A map and directions are included in this brochure. For events at the COAAA Long Street facility, you must pay to park; there is no free parking downtown. The COAAA is not responsible for fees or fines.

The COAAA does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, religion, sexual orientation, national origin, age or disability. If you need special accommodations due to a disability, please indicate so on the registration form.

Objectives

At the conclusion of this workshop, participants will be able to:

- Define personality disorders.
- Recognize differences between Cluster A, B & C disorders.
- Discuss new research regarding personality disorders continuing throughout the life span.
- Discuss challenges in the assessment of older adults.
- Distinguish between characteristics of personality disorders, stereotypes, eccentricities & the primary & secondary changes in aging in the older adult.
